

MAESTRO TROIS AIGUILLES OR ROSE

Like the orchestra conductor who unveils a symphony to the rhythm of his baton, RAYMOND WEIL reveals the notes on its 2013 music score, one by one. The first crescendo in its maestro collection, the Trois Aiguilles Or Rose (Three Hands Rose Gold) model, combines aesthetic refinement and watchmaking knowhow, and so this classic timekeeper all in rose gold stands proudly as one of the leading models of this year.

The maestro Trois Aiguilles Or Rose, as its name indicates, sublimates the color of the setting sun. Its case, bezel, crown, hands and indexes are in 5N PVD rose gold. Together with a silver dial and a brown leather strap with saddle stitching, the warm reflections exuded by this model's color make it irresistible. The central "clou de Paris" decor of the dial, for its part, is typical of the clean, traditional style of the maestro collection. Housed within the 39.5mm case with its extremely detailed finish, the watch's mechanical movement is visible through the sapphire crystal case back.

Timeless, classic, refined, the maestro Trois Aiguilles Or Rose interprets the codes of the times with virtuosity, while remaining ever true to the original score.
