

RAYMOND WEIL supporting US Veterans

Charitable projects have always been important to RAYMOND WEIL and our CEO, Elie Bernheim. From helping out students in Jamaica through the Bob Marley Foundation to, more recently, creating a supportive mission with the Magic System foundation, our Brand's vision has always included projects that allowed us to give back to communities.

This year, RAYMOND WEIL is proud to announce a partnership with the VGA, dedicated to enriching the lives of veterans and their families through the means of competition. This association provides an outlet for veterans to connect with one another, share experiences and engage with their local and national communities.

As a family-owned and operated brand, bringing people together and creating unique bonds through such missions nourishes the purpose of RAYMOND WEIL and perpetuates the initial vision of our founder, Raymond Weil.

To celebrate this partnership, our Brand is releasing a US limited edition timepiece of 100 watches, and will be donating a portion of the proceeds to this organization.

Available with a pierced rubber strap or a 5-row bracelet, this timepiece is inspired by the American Flag. The sunray-finished blue dial and red second's hand represent the values of freedom and independence that RAYMOND WEIL and the Old Glory flag share.

This US exclusive watch comes with our Swiss-made RW4200 automatic movement and a date function located at 3 o'clock. The case back has been engraved with the representation of an iconic moment in US history, the rise of the American Flag on Iwo Jima.

RAYMOND WEIL looks forward to helping the Veterans Golf Association and positively impacting the lives of families throughout America.
